

NEW Research TREATMENT TRIALS

People facing cancer are living longer, healthier lives as a direct result of these trials and the advanced treatment options they provide. Our Foundation, in collaboration with Illinois CancerCare, helps increase patient enrollment in the latest nationally renowned clinical cancer research trials right here in our community through partnerships with leading research institutions such as Mayo Clinic, MD Anderson and Sloan Kettering. These advanced treatment options allow our patients to remain in central Illinois for the best care possible, where they can be surrounded by family and friends.

Some of the latest standards in cancer treatment used globally resulted from trials conducted here in the greater Peoria area. Since 1979, nearly 10,000 cancer patients have participated in 1,400 clinical research trials through Illinois CancerCare.

Illinois CancerCare's Community Clinical Oncology Program (CCOP) is listed among the top 10% of enrollers to cancer clinical trials according to the Alliance for Clinical Trials in Oncology.

INITIATIVES

Generous gifts to the Foundation make it possible to keep hope alive for central Illinois families coping with cancer diagnosis through funding of clinical research and the following initiatives:

EDUCATION & ADVOCACY: Community outreach plays an important role in bringing us closer to cures. Charitable gifts to the Foundation support educational events and training for volunteer advocates, equipping them with the tools they need to share the importance of clinical research with the goal of reducing barriers to trial participation.

GENETIC SCREENING: The Foundation supports genetic screening programs to identify hereditary cancers, with special emphasis on central Illinois families at risk for hereditary colorectal and breast cancer. Additionally, we support studies that offer targeted oral therapies to patients whose tumors have “driver mutations” found in molecular sequencing. Thanks to generous contributors to the Illinois CancerCare Foundation, eligible patients can receive financial assistance for their tumor sequencing when needed. These programs empower families to understand their risks, provide relief from uncertainty, and make informed decisions about their health care.

PATIENT SUPPORT: Illinois CancerCare's volunteer program, with over 50 volunteers, provides a special touch to patients and families. Supported by gifts to the Foundation's Volunteer Fund, volunteers lend a helping hand and items of comfort for cancer center patients during their visit. Foundation grants also provide transportation assistance and lymphedema support to qualified patients.

TRUST IN HOPE: The Foundation's Trust in Hope program provides compassion and support to cancer patients and their families experiencing financial need during the holidays. In the last 5 years alone, 800 Thanksgiving meals have been delivered and 130 children and their parents have received holiday gifts.
