2016 ANNUAL REPORT

OUR MISSION

The Illinois CancerCare Foundation is committed to funding Research, Education, Patient Support and Assistance for a disease which affects 1 in 3 people. As we fight to find cures for many types of cancers through nationally recognized research initiatives, it is our strong belief that our patients must have available to them every possible weapon in their battle. The Illinois CancerCare Foundation seeks charitable support from throughout central and western Illinois to accomplish these objectives.

NO ONE FIGHTS ALONE.

Since 2001, that's been our mantra at the Illinois CancerCare Foundation. We want every cancer patient to have every weapon available in the battle against this disease. The funds we've raised over the past 15 years—thanks to your incredible generosity—help make that possible every day for local patients. But our work is about more than money. It's about bringing feet to the fight, engaging people in the cause and inspiring them to take action. On the following pages, you'll meet just a few of them:

LEADERS who give their expertise to further our quest to fund research, education and awareness

4,848 patients in clinical trials since 2001

VOLUNTEERS who give their time to plan events, raise funds, and offer hope and help

99 fundraising events held since 2001

DONORS who give their funds to connect local patients with clinical trials and other critical resources

$5,086,481 contributed since 2001

“Research is one of the things that helped this practice get started.”

Dr. James Gerstner,
Illinois CancerCare founding physician

LEADING THE FIGHT IS A FAMILY TRADITION

For almost 40 years, the name “Gerstner” has been synonymous with cancer treatment in central Illinois. Dr. James Gerstner helped found Illinois CancerCare in 1979. Just eight months after his retirement in December 2007, his son, Dr. Greg Gerstner, joined the practice.

The Foundation got its start during the first Dr. Gerstner’s tenure, as a way to manage donations from patients and families who wanted to give back and help further the cause. But it wasn’t long before the physicians at Illinois CancerCare realized it could play a much bigger part.

“Right about the time federal grant money for research began declining, we saw an opportunity to expand the Foundation’s role in helping fund clinical trials,” says Greg, who serves as president of the Foundation’s board of directors. “It was an ‘a-ha!’ moment for us.”

Since 1979, nearly 10,000 patients have participated in more than 1,400 clinical trials at Illinois CancerCare. Both Gerstners say that’s important not just for patients, but also for attracting the best physicians to the area. “The Foundation’s support allows us to keep more than 100 trials open locally at any given time,” Greg says. “Physicians who are trained in major research centers expect that when they’re looking for jobs.”

YEARS

Continuity of leadership and commitment to the cause—those are key reasons for the Foundation’s growth and success over the past 15 years. We owe big thanks to the three women who have helped lead the charge as Executive Director.

15

When the Foundation board of directors first came together in 2008, Terry Baum had a seat at the table. Nearly a decade later, he's still there—because he knows how much work remains.

“There are a lot of great organizations out there fighting cancer, but they have a different mission and focus than we do,” he says. “The Foundation’s primary purpose is to help fund the research that’s conducted through clinical trials. As a board, we need to continue to concentrate on connecting the dots for people—helping them understand how their donations make a real difference in the fight against cancer.”

For Terry, that fight is a personal one. He battled and beat Hodgkin’s lymphoma in the late 1980s with the help of the team at Illinois CancerCare. “I feel a sense of duty to give back,” he says. “The Foundation has given me an outlet for that.”

“Our community is blessed with some of the greatest doctors and nurses in cancer research, treatment and patient support. The Foundation helps make it possible to bring the best staff, equipment and facilities to central Illinois, and we’ll continue our mission to make available every possible cure to put an end to cancer.”

BRINGING A NEW GENERATION TO THE BATTLE

Cancer doesn't discriminate based on age. That's something members of the Foundation's Young Leaders Board know for a fact. Emily West's best friend is a patient at Illinois CancerCare right now, and Emily Shields says two of her good friends were diagnosed with cancer in the past two years.

To bring awareness of the cause to a new generation, the Young Leaders Board launched its signature fundraising event, Golfin' in the Wild, in 2012. It's a far cry from the serious atmosphere of a traditional golf event. A unique nine-hole course is constructed amidst the prairie grass and wildflowers at Wildlife Prairie Park. Participants can attempt to hit the longest drive with a marshmallow, take shots over the bison watering hole, compete in a crazy shot contest, and indulge in margaritas and Arnold Palmers along the way.

"We have so much fun with it," Emily Shields says. "We're making a conscious effort to draw a younger crowd and bring awareness to an entirely new audience."

$28,000

The 2016 Golfin' in the Wild event raised a record number of donations to support local cancer research, education and patient support.

GETTING OUTRAGEOUS IN THE QUEST FOR A CURE

Gina Kouri, founding and current CUREageous committee member

Stilt walkers. Jugglers. Dueling pianos. Martinis. If those aren't words you typically associate with cancer research, then you've never taken part in CUREageous—the Foundation's longest-running annual fundraiser. First held in 2010, the event has raised $926,000 over the past seven years.

"We wanted the event to be unique, fun and crazy—outrageous, really," says Gina Kouri, a longtime volunteer who helped lead the initial planning committee and still serves today. "Physicians need to be outrageous in their thinking about medicine, and this event is all about honoring their work."

Every year at CUREageous, the Foundation presents "Rock Doc" Awards to physicians who not only exhibit outstanding patient care, but also work to improve the lives of others through clinical research. Gina has experienced both. Diagnosed with breast cancer in 2008, she completed treatment at Illinois CancerCare that included participation in a clinical trial.

"They took such great care of me that I wanted to get involved and give back," she says. "CUREageous helps fund physicians' research efforts, and research in oncology is so important for patients to have hope."

2016 ROCK DOC AWARD WINNERS

Drs. Jane Liu and Kishore Karamchandani of Peoria and Dr. Ann Stroink of Bloomington—along with Chetaye Knox, our first AMP CHAMP recipient—took home the honors at our 7th annual CUREageous event, which raised $189,000.

Global biopharmaceutical corporation Celgene has backed CUREageous from the beginning, serving on the initial planning committee and providing financial support ever since. Senior hematology oncology consultants Christine Saddy-Kizziah and Heidi Genseal say the Foundation's goals align perfectly with Celgene's mission. "Passion for the patient is at the heart of what we do, and this is something we can do on the local level," Heidi says.

PARTYING WITH A PURPOSE, UP & DOWN THE ILLINOIS RIVER

Sue Blocker, Bill Blocker, Joe Pollentier and Laurel Pollentier are organizing members of the Leather & Leis fundraiser.

A person with grey hair, wearing a dark leather jacket, is seen from the back. They are holding a camera and looking into a side-view mirror. The mirror reflects a man's face. The background is a bright, sunny outdoor scene.

200+

Parrotheads and friends hit the road and the water for the 5th Leather & Leis event in 2016, raising $8,000 for the Foundation.

A large background image showing a river scene. On the left, there's a wooden dock with a building and an American flag. In the middle, a large white boat is docked. On the right, there's a body of water with a bridge in the distance. The sky is blue with white clouds.

If you know any Parrotheads, then you know they're passionate about two things: a good time and a good cause. The Leather & Leis River Run, sponsored by the Central Illinois Parrothead Club, brings the two together—raising $18,000 for cancer research and patient assistance over the past five years.

"It's that combination that makes the event so popular," says Laurel Pollentier, a longtime Leather & Leis volunteer who now serves as the event's charity director. "Parrotheads are always looking to have fun, and we also like to see families who are dealing with cancer get help with their day-to-day struggles."

Leather & Leis certainly fits the Parrotheads' credo: "Party with a Purpose—Raising Money for Good Causes While Enjoying Ourselves." One Saturday in July, cars, boats, motorcycles and party buses travel up and down both sides of the Illinois River, stopping at a number of beach-themed bars.

When the club took a vote on which nonprofit organization to support, Club President Sue Blocker and her husband Bill were strong proponents of the Foundation. "There isn't a family anywhere that hasn't been affected by cancer," says Bill, an Illinois CancerCare patient who celebrated five years cancer-free in 2016. "Every person I encountered there was compassionate and understanding, and that made a world of difference in my experience."

DELIVERING MEALS, GIFTS AND HOPE

It all started with a can of tuna.

Back in 2004, a patient told Illinois CancerCare's Marti Williamson that's what he was planning to eat for Thanksgiving dinner. "It broke my heart," she says. "We started what became Trust in Hope that day."

A volunteer-driven initiative, Trust in Hope offers patients much-needed support during what can be a trying time—the holidays. The first year, Marti and her team delivered Thanksgiving meals to 12 patients and holiday gifts to 11 children. By 2016, those numbers had risen to 253 Thanksgiving meals and gifts for 42 children and 26 families.

It's a small gesture that means a great deal. "Cancer can take away so much, not just from the patient but from the whole family," Marti says. "Some people have lost almost everything they've ever worked for. We're able to bring them something that brings a smile to their face."

"We wouldn't be where we are today without our outstanding, committed volunteers. Peoria is a giving community with lots of nonprofit organizations with very deep roots. We came in as a new organization with big ideas and a desire to raise money to fight cancer in a different way. Our volunteers got out there and convinced people to support us. They've helped us create our own roots."

LEAVING A LEGACY FOR LOVE

When Kelly Nohl talks about her parents, Bill and Marian Hardin, she always comes back to their love for one another. The two met at Bradley University, were married for 64 years and raised three children together. “They loved each other happily ever after,” Kelly says. “What an amazing love story.”

That love became more apparent than ever during Marian’s fight with non-Hodgkins lymphoma, when Bill would accompany her to treatment at Illinois CancerCare. “That’s when it came through the strongest,” Kelly says. “A look, a touch, a moment between them.”

Marian’s cancer went into remission, and Kelly says both her parents credited Illinois CancerCare with giving them many more years together. That played a big role in Bill’s decision to leave a substantial bequest to the Foundation following Marian’s death in 2015.

“I think my dad was saying thank you,” Kelly says. “By supporting research and treatment, he could help give others the extra time he was given—to live their lives to the fullest. It’s quite a legacy, especially since he did it to honor his deep love for my mom.”

PLANNING YOUR GIFT

It's one of the simplest, most flexible ways you can make a gift—and make a lasting impact. A bequest is a contribution designated in your will or living trust. It can be as simple as one sentence and take the form of cash, stock, real estate or other assets. And if your financial situation changes, you can revise your bequest at any point during your lifetime.

Ready to leave your legacy? Talk to your financial or legal advisor or contact Tonda Thompson at 309-243-3422 or tthompson@illinoiscancercarefoundation.org.

GIVING A LITTLE, GAINING A LOT

“No matter how small you are or what your age is, you can still make a very big difference.”

Those are wise words from 12-year-old Ivan Pfautsch, whose $285 gift to the Foundation in August 2016 launched a movement. Wanting to celebrate his mom Amy’s five-year cancer-free anniversary, Ivan asked friends attending his 11th birthday party to donate money instead of buying him presents.

“I think we said, ‘Are you sure?’” says Amy, who received her treatment at Illinois CancerCare. “But there was absolutely no hesitation on his part.”

Foundation board members were so impressed with Ivan’s selflessness that they created a new program called “Ivan’s Army,” designed to teach young kids about philanthropy.

“To have the awareness to give back, the ability to think beyond himself, that’s pretty impressive for an 11-year-old,” Ivan’s dad Brian says. “He wants to grow up and find a cure for cancer. We are very proud of him.”

Since 2001, our support has helped more than 1,200 local patients participate in clinical trials—including Georgia Rapp of Bloomington, who was profiled in our 2013 annual report. Diagnosed with colon cancer that April, she’s now finished chemotherapy and anticipating the day she’ll be deemed cancer-free. She credits the team at Illinois CancerCare with helping her through the tough times. “If you’re having a bad day, they’re right there with you crying. They won’t let you walk out the door until you have a smile on your face. I could not have asked for a better cheering section.”

FRIENDS IN THE FIGHT:

Leaders. Volunteers. Donors. These are the pillars upon which the Illinois CancerCare Foundation is built. Since our founding in 2001, we've relied on your contributions of time, talent and financial resources to advance our mission—making sure every local patient has access to every possible weapon in the battle against cancer. When we ask, you answer. When we uncover a need, you respond.

Because of your support, we're able to fill a critical gap in government funding and ensure no local patients lose access to clinical trials. That's a big reason why Illinois CancerCare is ranked as one of the nation's top enrollers in clinical trials—ahead of such well-known names as Dana-Farber and the Mayo Clinic.

But that's not all. Because of your generosity, we're able to award grants and offer educational programs that advance cancer treatment locally. Because of your compassion, cancer patients and those they love know they'll never have to face this fight alone.

Whether you've been a Foundation supporter since 2001, or joined us sometime along the way, thank you. Every contribution—financial and otherwise—makes a difference in the battle. The individuals featured on the previous pages know that, and we hope you do, too. Perhaps their stories will inspire you to bring your feet to the fight in new ways. And perhaps 15 years from now, we'll be able to say we beat cancer—together.
