COOKIES EATEN

Sometimes, all it takes to turn a bad day into a better one is a freshly baked chocolate chip cookie. Someone you've never met offering to play a hand of cards. A soft blanket to ward off the waiting room's chill. Or the gift of a gas card that takes away your worries about getting to next week's treatment. At Illinois CancerCare, our physicians rank among the world's best when it comes to treating this terrible disease. But we also understand that when you're battling cancer, more than just your disease needs attention. That's why we invest thousands of Foundation dollars, and countless volunteer hours, to support our patients and their families body, mind and spirit. Because we know that even the smallest of gestures can make a world of difference in this fight.

DEAR FRIENDS IN THE FIGHT,

When you or a loved one is battling cancer, the disease can feel all-consuming. It can mean long days, sleepless nights and constant worry. But life is — must be — more than treatment.

Our focus on the “more than” has always set Illinois CancerCare apart from other providers. Our clinics aren’t clinical — they’re warm, welcoming and comfortable. Our physicians and staff take time to get to know patients and families, calling them by name and remembering their stories. And our volunteers give their hands and their hearts to make sure everyone who steps through our doors is enveloped in kindness. That’s why so many patients tell us, “Illinois CancerCare feels like my second home — in a good way!”

Your donations to the Illinois CancerCare Foundation make our “more than” possible, enabling us to deliver the soft touches and unexpected joys that encourage hope to bloom in a patient’s day and life.

In past annual reports, we’ve highlighted the research and clinical side of what we do here at Illinois CancerCare. The bulk of Foundation dollars still goes to support these efforts and always will. But we know that what patients often remember most are the small gestures — smiles, hugs, words of support — and so this year we celebrate the people who provide them. And as always, we thank you for your contributions and for joining us in this fight.

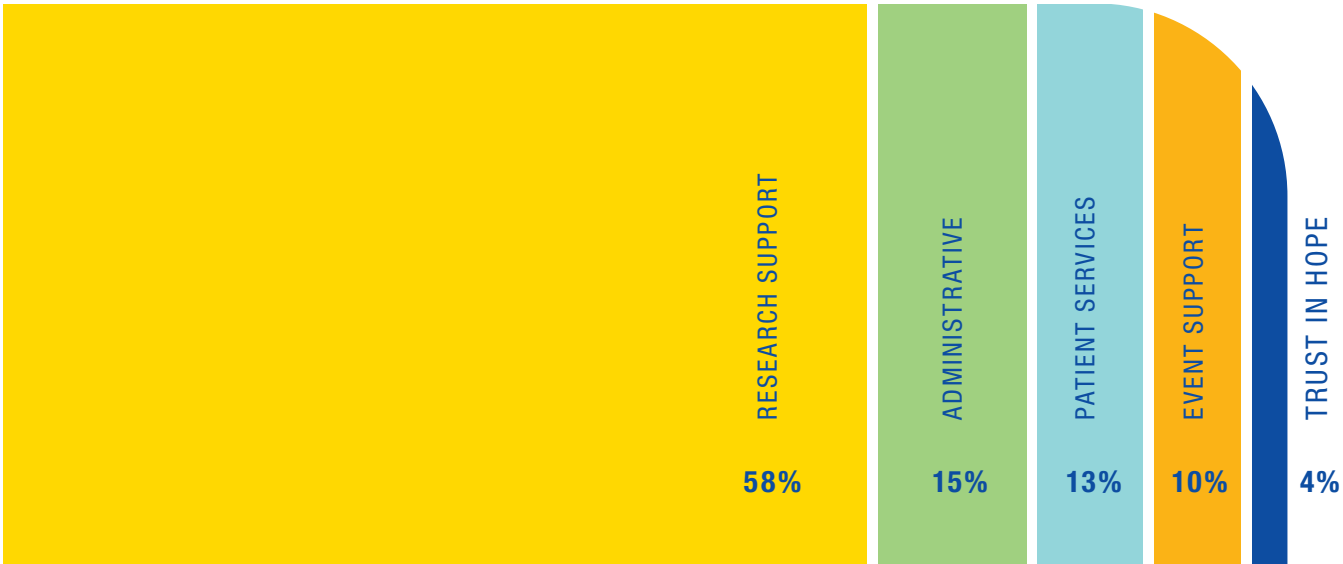

WITH OUR APPRECIATION,

Greg Gerstner, M.D.

BAKED WITH LOVE

Marianne Waldman is quiet and reserved, not the sort of woman who seeks the spotlight. Still, some Illinois CancerCare patients schedule their treatments on Fridays just to see her. Why? Because Marianne is better known as “The Cookie Lady.” Almost every Friday for at least the past 15 years — she can’t remember exactly how many — she’s delivered dozens of home-baked cookies to the Peoria clinic.

It started when Marianne’s late husband was a patient, and she realized there weren’t many snacks on hand for those receiving treatment or for their family and friends. So she began baking — and never stopped. These days, she’s up early on Thursday mornings making 16 dozen cookies: always chocolate chip, usually oatmeal and one rotating variety. “I’ve always loved to bake and just wanted to give back,” she says.

With every cookie, Marianne gives more than a comforting snack. She gives a little piece of her heart, too.

BAKE FOR THE CAUSE

Get Marianne’s recipes and give back by purchasing her cookbook, available for $10 at the Illinois CancerCare Peoria Clinic. All proceeds from cookbook sales go toward cookie ingredients.

CONTRIBUTE TO THE COOKIE CAUSE

Marianne purchases most of her own ingredients, supplemented by donations. You can drop off any of the following items — or a donation via cash or check (just write “Cookie Lady” in the memo line) — at any Illinois CancerCare clinic:

- Sugar or brown sugar
- Flour (not whole wheat)
- Chocolate chips
- Quick-cooking oats
- Gift cards to Hy-Vee or Sam’s to purchase eggs
- Unsalted butter
- Salt

A BEAR TO HUG

When times get tough, having something tangible to hold onto can be a comfort. That's the idea behind Sojourn Bear, which all Illinois CancerCare patients receive along with a warm blanket before treatment.

On the second Tuesday of the month, most months of the year, a group of eight to 12 volunteers gathers at the Proctor Professional Building in Peoria, taking supplies donated by the community and bringing Sojourn Bears to life. Some fill the bears with stuffing; others dress them in knitted or crocheted outfits, carefully sew on buttons and tie on bows. Then they deliver the finished bears — each handmade and unique — to Illinois CancerCare as well as to local hospitals, nursing homes and homebound residents. Their work is a labor of love that helps ensure there's a hug ready for every patient when it's needed most.

YEARS OF VOLUNTEER
BEAR-MAKING

JUNE GILMORE

FILLED WITH COMPASSION | In 1996, June Gilmore underwent surgery for leaking brain fluid. She survived, but a close friend battling breast cancer did not. Seeking to understand why she lived and her friend, just 40 years old, died, June found a calling in the creation of Sojourn Bear. She launched the cause in 1998, and 20 years later, the volunteer group she formed creates more than 5,000 bears annually, all sent to local cancer patients to hug.

June's health no longer allows her to participate in the monthly stuffing and sewing sessions. Sandy Johnson now leads the group's efforts, and as the original volunteers age, new help is needed. So too are donations of materials and funding to purchase supplies. If you'd like to volunteer your time — no sewing experience required! — or make a contribution, please call 309.243.3502.

HOPE IN A BAG

JoAnne Stewart had a lot of purses. That's what her daughter and granddaughter, Sharyl Nuske and Jenna Buffington, discovered after they lost JoAnne, an Illinois CancerCare patient, to breast cancer in 2013. As they tried to figure out what to do with the bags, an aunt recalled a purse auction held in Lake of the Ozarks, where the family vacations. With that, Totes for Ta-Tas was born. "With a few months of planning and a lot of help from family and friends in Morton, we pulled off our first event in 2014 and raised $10,000," Sharyl says.

After five years spearheading the event, which includes both live and silent auctions, Sharyl is stepping back from her leadership role and handing the reins to Stacie McCormack, who recently lost her husband to lymphoma and wanted to find a way to give back to Illinois CancerCare, where he was treated. Stacie and her team sort and tag hundreds of purses — some new, most gently loved and all donated in support of the cause.

In its first five years, Totes for Ta-Tas has raised $87,000 for breast cancer research. "I made my mom a promise to do whatever I could in my lifetime to find a cure, and every penny that we've raised has gone toward fighting breast cancer," Sharyl says. "I think my mom would be shocked." And proud — very proud.

FULL BELLIES, WARM HEARTS

Dogs bring smiles and so do a little food and fun. Once a month, the Foundation hosts a theme lunch in our treatment areas, with volunteers serving up meals and kindness Monday through Thursday to patients, staff, families and friends.

FRIENDS ON FOUR LEGS

Dogs are man's — wait, make that a cancer patient's — best friend. Just ask breast cancer survivor Courtney Knowles (left). Experiencing the “fur love” delivered by Wrigley made her last treatment at Illinois CancerCare an extra-special one.

Volunteer Barb Stoppenhagen started the Foundation's therapy dog program in 2011 as a way to offer comfort and cheer to patients during their time at the clinic. Today, dogs of all breeds and sizes make their way through our treatment areas and waiting rooms during the week, distributing love and offering up their bellies for rubs. All are registered through the Alliance of Therapy Dogs to ensure they have the right temperament for the task at hand — bringing smiles and joy to those undergoing the fight of their lives.

WRIGLEY AND HER HANDLER, ANNE ZUMWALT

The Alliance of Therapy Dogs looks for well-mannered, well-behaved dogs that enjoy meeting people. Any dog that's at least one year old, calm and gentle, and attentive to its handler can be registered by the organization.

GREETED WITH A SMILE

If you've visited the Peoria clinic on a Wednesday morning or Friday afternoon, then you know Don Paul. For the past three years, this Foundation volunteer has served as a front-door greeter — and he exhibits the energy and enthusiasm of a man half his age. You'll find the 93-year-old World War II veteran and former Navy medic helping patients in and out of cars, buckling seat belts, pushing wheelchairs and, perhaps most important, offering a warm smile and a welcoming hello to all who enter our doors.

Like many of our volunteers, Don has a personal connection to Illinois CancerCare. His late wife was a patient, and he wants others to experience the same level of care and compassion she did on every visit. Still, what he enjoys most is seeing patients walk out the doors cancer-free. "My favorite thing is hearing patients say when they leave, 'I don't have to come back again!'" he says.

DRIVEN BY KINDNESS

Rainy day? Cold, snowy weather? Icy pavement? If the weather's not conducive to a walk through the parking lot, or you're just not feeling up to the journey, take advantage of our complimentary parking shuttle, available to patients, caretakers and visitors alike. Behind the wheel several days a week is Allen Lovell (right), a former patient and cancer survivor who volunteers his time as driver and front-door greeter. Our shuttle program, and all volunteer service efforts at Illinois CancerCare, receive support from the Foundation through your donations.

FRIENDS FOR LIFE

Sharon Day (right) lost her mother to breast cancer when Sharon was just 16. Anu Sureka (left) is a breast cancer survivor. The two women met through Sharon's daughter, felt an instant connection, decided to volunteer at Illinois CancerCare — and a wonderful friendship was born. Once a week, the pair gathers coffee and snacks and walks through the treatment areas chatting with patients. Anu, who worked as a medical doctor in India before moving to the U.S. decades ago, shares her experiences as both patient and physician to help alleviate people's fears. "I let them know I've been through what they're going through, and though it's not easy, things are much, much better today," she says. "Sharon and I try to give them hope."

POWER OF THE GROUP

Research shows losing weight after treatment can lower the risk of recurrence for breast cancer survivors. But treatment itself can cause weight gain, and many patients have more to worry about than researching a new diet. That's where the Breast Cancer Weight Management Support Group, led by dietitian Grace Hensold, comes into play. Funded by Foundation dollars, each small group of survivors meets 10 times over a six-month period, learning about weight management, healthy lifestyles, meal planning and more.

DIETITIANS GRACE HENSOLD AND JEANNA RICH

Imagine losing half your stomach to cancer and discovering you'll need to use a feeding tube to supplement your diet. Insurance doesn't cover nutrition counseling, so you're either on your own or forced to pay out of pocket to learn what and how to eat again.

That was the reality Eddie Kimbrough faced after treatment for throat and stomach cancer. Fortunately, he found Grace Hensold and Jeanna Rich, dietitians at the Hult Center for Healthy Living. Thanks to a Foundation grant, they're able to offer free nutrition support at all 13 Illinois CancerCare clinics — addressing everything from side effects like nausea and weight gain all the way to extreme malnutrition.

In Eddie's case, he lost so much weight, and became so fatigued and weak, that he made numerous trips in and out of the hospital. But the combination of nutrition therapy and a good attitude brought him back from a low of 130 pounds. "Once I started on the program, I quickly started gaining weight and got some of my energy back," he says. "I'm so grateful to Grace and Jeanna and to Illinois CancerCare."

ROBBIE DUNCAN gained about 10 pounds after she was diagnosed with Stage I breast cancer due to the side effects of medication. Attending the support group helped her get back on track — learning how to avoid fad diets, the difference between good and bad fats, the importance of planning ahead before dining out and other strategies. Most important, it all tied back to breast health.

"You get more of a benefit being around other women who share a common diagnosis," Robbie says. "At Weight Watchers, they might not understand. But we understood what each other was going through."

THANKSGIVING MEALS DELIVERED
BY THE FOUNDATION TO 59 FAMILIES IN 2018

After Brian Johnson was diagnosed with brain cancer in 2012, his treatment went well, and he and his wife Lindsey started a family. Their daughter Ethne was born in 2013 and their son Elliot in 2017. Then, in 2018, Brian's cancer returned aggressively. Two days after he was placed in hospice care, Lindsey was diagnosed with three tumors in her kidney. Just 10 days after her surgery, Brian died.

That was November 2018, and the holidays were rapidly approaching. Someone shared Lindsey's story with the Foundation, and our Trust in Hope team jumped into action. They asked Ethne and Elliot for their Christmas lists, then delivered presents that delighted the two kids — including a Kindle and arts and crafts projects for Ethne, a ride-on car and dinosaurs for Elliot and a scooter for both to share.

After Brian's death, Lindsey moved back to her hometown of Henry to be close to her parents, Tony and Tammi Hastings, and her sister, Alissa Hastings. But she considers Illinois CancerCare part of her family now, too. "As soon as things settle down with my health, I want to volunteer," she says. "I want to help any way I can, because that's what Brian would want me to do. I try to live by his example to honor his memory."

NAVIGATOR JANETTE MURPHY

MAKING CONVERSATION AND CONNECTIONS

An American Cancer Society employee, Janette Murphy spends her days at Illinois CancerCare, where you'll most often find her deep in conversation with a patient in the treatment area. Janette's work is funded by a Foundation grant, and her goal is to help patients and families navigate the nonclinical challenges of cancer. She uses all the resources at her disposal to get patients the support they need. That includes coordinating transportation to appointments, arranging for housekeeping services, identifying mortgage and utility payment support, connecting survivors with free wigs, hats, turbans and scarves — even finding patients companions for a game of cards or chess.

OUR MISSION

The Illinois CancerCare Foundation is committed to funding Research, Education, Patient Support and Assistance for a disease which affects 1 in 3 people. As we fight to find cures for many types of cancers through nationally recognized research initiatives, it is our strong belief that our patients must have available to them every possible weapon in their battle. The Illinois CancerCare Foundation seeks charitable support from throughout central and western Illinois to accomplish these objectives.
